LALLA ROOKH.

I have but very lately perused this production of taste and genius, altho' it has for some weeks made its appearance, from more than one of the American presses. The following well written encomium, by the Editor of the Columbian, so entirely coincides with the judgment I have formed, that I gladly avail myself of it, instead of endeavouring to clothe substantially the same sentiments in language of my own.

Lalla Rookh.—We have abstained from noticing the beautiful poem of Lalla Rookh since its publication, that we might learn the reception that it had met from readers of feeling and taste, before we presumed to offer our own sentiments upon the work. It has now been some days before the public, and we rejoice to find that the expectations of the warmest admirers of the poet have been gratified. It breathes the enchanting odours of the East. The splendid imagery of the Persian Bards is softened, however, by the sweet tone of the Anacreontic lyre, so that while fancy is delighted with the lustre of the scenes described, the heart is soothed by the classic and varied harmony of the versification. Mr. Moore has thrown the poem into a form perfectly novel, and as engaging as it is new. It is not one, but four tales, naturally introduced by a story in prose, and intermixed, with observations to anticipate, as it were, the criticisms that may be made on the work. This is done with an address that must strike every reader at once with surprise and pleasure by the ingenuity which it displays, and the foresight by which it must disarm captious censure. We shall enrich our columns with extracts, but we presume to think the following portrait of one of his heroines will make too sensible an impression on the heart of every reader to admit of delay or of contentment with occasional scraps.

N. F. Col.

POETRY OF NOURMAHAL.

There's a beauty, forever unchangingly bright,
Like the long, sunny lapse of a summer day's light
Shining on, shining on, by no shadow made tender,
Till love falls asleep in its sameness of splendour.
This was not the beauty—oh! nothing like this,
That to young Nourmahal gave such magic of bliss;
But that loveliness, ever in motion, which plays
Like the light upon autumn's soft shadowy days.
Now here and now there, giving warmth as it flies
From the lips to the cheek, from the cheek to the eyes,
Now melting in mist and now breaking in gleams
Like the glimpses a saint has of Heaven in his dreams!
When pensive, it seem'd as if that very grace,
That charm of all others, was born with her face,
And when angry—for even in the tranquillist climes
Light breezes will ruffle the flowers sometimes—
The short, passing anger but seem'd to awaken
New beauty, like flowers that are sweetest when shaken.
It tenderness touch'd her, the dark of her eye
At once took a darker, a heavenlier dye,
From the depth of whose shadow, like holy revelations
From innermost shades, came the light of her feelings!
Then her mirth—Oh! 'twas sportive as ever took wing
From the heart with a burst, like the wild bird in spring;
Illu'd by a wit that would fascinate sages,
Yet playful as Peris just loos'd from their cages,
While her laugh, full of life, without any control
But the sweet one of gracefulness, rung from her soul:
And where it most sparkled no glance could discover,
In lip, cheek or eyes, for she brightened all over.

* In the wars of the Dives with the Persians, whenever the former took the latter prisoners, they shut them up in iron cages, and hung them on the highest trees. Here they were visited by their companions, who brought them the choicest of dours.—Richardson.

Like any fair lake that the breeze is upon,
When it breaks into dimples and laughs in the sun.

Such, such were the peerless enchantments that gave Nourmahal the proud Lord of the East for her slave;
And though bright was his Haram—a living parterre
Of the flowers of this planet—the treasure were there,
For which Solomon's self might have given all the store
That the navy from Ophir e'er wing'd to his shore,
Yet dim before her were the smiles of them all,
And the Light of his Haram was young Nourmahal.

* In the Malay language the same word signifies women and flowers.

From a N. Jersey paper, Sept. 12.

UNKNOWN SECT.

Passed through Newtown on Wednesday last, ten pilgrims, six men and four women, from Woodstock in the State of Vermont, on their way to the Southward, possessed of very singular appearance and deportment.

They profess to be the only true followers of Jesus Christ, and his Gospel, and are in a special manner called of God to go forth into the world to do, and that continually, his will; for which purpose, they have forsaken their houses and lands, relatives and friends, and all this world's enjoyments, and after the manner of the Apostles, are travelling from place to place, doing good to the children of men.

They have a prophet or leader amongst them, who occasionally preaches, and most of them exhort in the streets and ways as they pass by.—They seem all devotion and humility, and are continually engaged in the service of Christ; holding forth the power of his holy spirit, as communicated unto them, saying that the MILLENIUM is near at hand, and that the lost tribes of Judah are now beginning to be gathered in, and the way is fast opening when the four quarters of the world will be gathered into one fold of such as will receive the true spirit of faith; not the faith which is received by Christians of the present day, but such as is accompanied with holy fire. They have no abiding place in view, but travel as the Lord may direct. They say the people of the world are of the devil, for they cannot serve the Lord and be Christ's.—They asked no charity: move very slow, with a cart, yoke of oxen and one horse, and say the Lord will provide for them, for where they go, there is he. Their dress is very singular, long beards close caps, and bear skins tied around them.

SOLOMON AND QUEEN SHEBA.

The following well-pointed story is taken by D'Israeli from the Talmud.

The power of Solomon had spread his wisdom to the remotest parts of the known world. Queen Sheba, attracted by the splendor of his reputation, visited this poetical king at his own court. There one day, to exercise the sagacity of the monarch, Sheba presented herself at the foot of the throne—in each of her hands she held a wreath of flowers; one composed of natural, the other of artificial flowers. Art, in the labour of the mimic wreath, had exquisitely emulated the lively hues of nature—so that at the distance it was held by the Queen for the inspection of the king, it was deemed impossible for him to decide, as her question imported, which wreath was the production of nature, and which the work of art. The sagacity of Solomon seemed perplexed; yet to be vanquished, though in a trifle, by a trifling woman, irritated his pride. The son of David, he who had written treatises on the vegetable productions "from the cedar to the hyssop," to acknowledge himself outwitted by a woman, with shreds of paper and glazed paintings! The honor of the monarch's reputation for divine sagacity seemed diminished; and the whole Jewish Court looked solemn and melancholly. At length an expedient presented itself to the king, and it must be confessed worthy of the natural philosopher. Observing a cluster of bees hovering about a window, he commanded that it should be opened: it was opened—the bees rushed into the court and alighted immediately on one of the wreaths, while not a single one fixed on the other. The baffled Sheba had one more reason to be astonished at the wisdom of Solomon.

Such is the story. Mr. D'Israeli thus turns its moral. "This would make a pretty poetical tale. It would yield an elegant description, and a pleasing moral; that the bee only rests on the natural beauties, and never fixes on the painted flowers, however it imitates the colour may be laid on. Applied to ladies this would give it purgancy

ALEXANDRIA:

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1817.

CONTESTED ELECTION.

We yesterday published a singular notice from general Mason to Mr. Mercer, in relation to sundry voters of Loudoun county. Below is a similar notice in relation to Fairfax county, which has just been put into our hands. There will be found included in it some of the oldest, the most respectable, and the most extensive land holders in the county—men who have been in the habit of voting for the last twenty years; and whose rights are now, for the first time, to be questioned. From such a scrutiny we, of course, apprehend no danger, unless the most fatal indolence should pervade the ranks of Mr. Mercer's friends. But even such men as Israel Janney, Joshua Gore, Jacob Waltman, William Winner, &c. &c. may be defrauded of their rights, if means are not taken to prevent it. And, although we may calculate with certainty on every exertion that Mr. Mercer can make, yet it is not to be expected that every thing should be done by a single individual. Those who have elected him are equally interested with himself in maintaining him in his seat; and with a moderate share of exertion they cannot fail to do it. These persons, whose votes are published below as contested, should immediately furnish, by letter or otherwise, either Mr. Mercer, or some one of his most active friends in the county, every information necessary to establish their rights. And every federalist should take similar steps with regard to such votes on Mr. Mason's poll as they consider questionable. Delay ought, above all things, to be avoided.

Loudoun County, Sept. 1, 1817.

CHARLES F. MERCER ESQR.

SIR—In conformity with the notice I gave you in May last of my intention to contest the validity of your election to Congress, I now proceed to give you further notice that I protest against the votes herein after mentioned, and which were given for you in Fairfax county, at the last congressional election for this district. I reserve the right to protest against any other votes on your poll which may be defective, and I also reserve the right to urge any other objections, than those now assigned, to the vote against which I now protest.

My delay in giving you this notice has proceeded from the difficulty of procuring the information upon which it is founded, and from the disordered state of my health for nearly four months past.

I protest against the votes of Thomas Ashbury, of William Ambler, of John Beech, of Anthony Brown, of James Bradley, of John Bragg, of Doddridge P. Chichester, of Richard J. Coleman, of Robert H. Douglass, of Benjamin R. Davis, of William Hawley, of Elijah Hutchinson, of Francis Hague, of James Irvine, of Daniel Kitchen, of John Lee, of Richard K. Lee, of William Lindsay, of Sanford Lyne, of Robert Mills, of John Mills, of William Moxley, of William T. Reardon, of Charles Ratcliffe, of John Ratcliffe, of John A. Somers, of Joshua Smalley, of Gerard Steel, of Isaac Walters, of Thomas Ward, of John Zimmerman, of Samuel Adams, of Charles Coleman, of George Blake, of James Deneale, of William Hale, of Ely Hutchinson, of Charles I. Love, of William Marshall Marshall, of Coleman Lewis, of Daniel McPherson, of Samuel Ratcliffe, and of John Stanhope—neither of them having had at the time of the election sufficient length of possession of an estate of freehold in land enough in Fairfax county, to entitle either of them to vote at that election.

I protest against the vote of Ganett Steel, no such man having voted, and if intended for Gerrard Steel, then I have already protested against his vote on other grounds.

I protest against the votes of John Arundelle, of James Patton, and of Robert Patton, neither of them being natives of the United States, nor citizens thereof at the adoption of the constitution, and neither of them having taken the oath of allegiance to the government of the United States.

I protest against the vote of James H. Hume, not being a resident of this state at the time of the election.

ARMISTEAD T. MASON.

The "colonel Irvine of New-York," mentioned as having superseded general McGregor in the command of the forces on Amelia Island, is, in fact, col. Irwin, lately of Northumberland, Pennsylvania, and a member of the last congress of the United States.

From late German papers it appears that the Hessian government has discovered an effectual mode to prevent emigration. Seventy persons, who had sold their property with intent to go to America, have been stopped at the frontier, conducted to Cassel, and confined in the house of correction. It must be a weak government that conceives this the way to reconcile its subjects to their native home.

New-York, Sept. 19.

Specie.—Within the last ten days the following amount of specie has been brought to this country for the bank of the United States:

By the Primrose, at Balt. $300,000
By the Radius, at New-York, 130,000
By the Cherub, at Boston, 246,000

Total amount, $686,000

It is stated in a Philadelphia paper that the specie which arrived at Baltimore has been brought to Philadelphia, and placed in the vault of the national bank.

A letter has been received in New-York, dated

Hamilton, (Bermuda) Sept. 4.

"A letter just received at this place from a gentleman of undoubted veracity, dated at Trinidad, the 28th August, states, that the city of Augustura, up the river Oronoke, has lately fell into the hands of the Republican forces, who now have complete and entire possession of the province of Guayana."

Salem, Sept. 16.

HORRIBLE SELF IMMOLATION.

We understand that one of the papers brought in the Bengal contains an account of two females being recently burnt on the funeral pile of their deceased husband, near Calcutta. The British government, it is said, interfered to prevent it; but, finally, a compromise was made, that no force or binding of the limbs should be used, but that the women should, after the fire was kindled, be left to their own free will. The consequence was, that the elder first threw herself into the flames; and after wards the younger, about 17 years of age, applauding the conduct of the other, followed her horrible example, and the bodies of husbands and wives were consumed together amidst crowds of their fellow beings!

From the Detroit Gazette of Aug. 22.
MILITARY REVIEW BY THE PRESIDENT,
And Presentation of a Record to General Macomb.

The military Review on Thursday the 14th inst. was peculiarly attractive and interesting. The troops were paraded, agreeably to orders, at 8 o'clock A. M. on the esplanade in front of the cantonment, under the command of Lt. Col. Smith, and formed in close column. As the President approached, they were displayed in line, and when he came opposite to the standard, paid the accustomed salute. It was a moment of deep and indescribable emotion. To see the First Magistrate of the country—the elected chief of a great people, receiving in uncovered majesty this martial tribute of respect, was a noble & impressive spectacle. Every soldier's eye glistened like his polished arms; and when the standard bowed, and the drums rolled their ruffles, every heart swelled with pride and acknowledged its devotion. He was mounted on an elegant Arabian, & surrounded by his aides, whose splendor could be eclipsed only by such a presence. The conquerors at Niagara and at Plattsburg formed his suite; the one, like Marcus, as a sword, the other, like Fabius, as a shield, in the hour of danger.

The President rode up and down the line, and after having received the marching salute, saw the troops execute various movements, in a style that reflected great credit on their commanding officer. When these were finished, he dismounted, and was pleased to attend the following ceremony.

The sword which the legislature of N. York had voted to Maj. Gen. Macomb, having been transmitted by Gov. Clinton to Gov. Cass for presentation, his excellency selected this very appropriate occasion to discharge the honorable trust. No scene could have been more striking and characteristic. 'Twas in the field, and at the head of troops that the deed had been deserved, and 'twas there it was now presented and received. Col. Wool, and several other officers who had participated in the perils and honors of the achievement were now present to behold it rewarded. Gen. Brown, who has so often been crowned with the laurelled testimonials of his countrymen, now saw a brother in arms share in the same gratitude and approbation. But the most illustrious witness was the President of the United States, whose presence seemed to stamp a nation's approval upon the munificence of a state. Surrounded by this assemblage, his excellency presented the sword with the following elegant and pertinent address.

MAJ. GENERAL MACOMB,

On the 22d day of October, 1814, the Legislature of the state of N. York, unanimously declared, for your conduct at the battle of Plattsburg, you were entitled to the gratitude of your country, and directed that you should be presented with a sword.

The Governor of New-York has been pleased to assign to me the honor and duty of conveying to you the sentiments of the Legislature of that great and liberal State, of presenting to you the splendid testimonial of their approbation—in the execution of this trust, I feel that the presence of the Chief Magistrate of the Republic, who, as a reward for a life of exertions in the field and in the cabinet, now reposes upon the affections of his countrymen; and of the distinguished officer, who in our second struggle for independence, bore his country's standard to victory; while it adds interest to the occasion, adds likewise to the difficulty under which I labor, of discharging this duty in a manner worthy of them, of the subject, and of the enlightened Legislature, whose liberal patriotism furnished the opportunity for the address.

In reflecting upon the splendid military achievements, for which this trophy has been awarded to you, we are led to consider the situation of our country at the eventful period of its accomplishment. Pressed by a powerful foe, with a scattered population, & with an extensive and defenceless frontier, our enemies were enabled by circumstances to assail us with numerous and veteran armies. It was at this period that the brilliant succession of victories commenced, which have acquired for our country honor and prosperity, and for their authors imperishable renown. Among these, your repulse of the enemy from Plattsburg will occupy one of the fairest pages in history. The governor general of the Canadas, at the head of a powerful and well appointed army, invaded our frontiers and penetrated to your position. The disparity of force left to the most sanguine little room for hope. Your works were hastily thrown up, your troops suddenly collected together, and the prospect of relief distant and uncertain. But by the most judicious arrangements, by the most fortunate combination of skill and valor, his prospects were destroyed, and he was defeated and driven back upon his own territories.

But great as was the political importance of this victory to our country, its moral interest constitutes its fairest features. It adds another to the number of defensive victories, which demonstrate that the energies and exertions of republics increase as the pressure of circumstances increases upon them. This, like the kindred actions of antiquity, which illumine the dark pages of history, it offers the consoling reflection that the superiority of force in the invasion of free countries affords no hope for victory; and that physical strength must yield to moral energy. It is this consideration which establishes the stability of republics, and this lesson you have been enabled to teach to your countrymen.

I am happy, therefore, sir, in being able to communicate these sentiments of a grateful country, and to present to you this testimonial of its approbation. It will be to your descendants a memorial of your services, when the actors in the scene shall have passed away. But your victory will live in history as long as the memory of gallant exploits shall give confidence to the people or stability to republican institutions.

To which general Macomb made the following reply:

SIR,—Overcome by the impressive manner in which you have presented to me this memorial of the approbation of my conduct in the defence of Plattsburg, I am unable to express all that my feelings dictate. As the gift of a munificent and eminently patriotic state, it will be invaluable; and having been presented and received in the presence of the chief magistrate of our republic, and of the distinguished commander of the division, it will ever be preserved as one of the proudest memorials of my services.

To you, sir, I offer my thanks for the grateful mode of this presentation, and for your flattering expressions of individual respect and esteem.

They were both spoken with an eloquent impressiveness, which reached the heart of every spectator. After this ceremony, the president inspected the barracks and hospitals. In the latter his benevolent feelings were frequently called into action, and always expressed with an unaffected tenderness and sincerity. A veteran and discharged soldier, who has long wept over his wounds, was particularly noticed by him, and received assurances of continued kindness and support. These are traits which truly ennoble a great man—when he bends down from the contents of nations to sympathize in the afflictions of a humble individual, he exhibits a pattern worthy the imitation of kings, and the admiration of mankind. There is nothing, perhaps, which the human mind contemplates with so much serenity and satisfaction, as the union of those eminent talents which adorn exalted stations, with the amiable qualities that are supposed to flourish only in private life. The duties and conflicts of an elevated political career, while they enlarge and invigorate the mind, generally repress and narrow the mild influences of the heart, and ultimately form a lukewarm, shrewd and inaccessible character. That our chief magistrate, while ascending to that attitude of greatness which he has now attained, and gathering experience and powers that should fit him to rule the destinies of a hemisphere, has preserved unimpaired these feelings and manners which attempt the splendour of dignity, the spontaneous voice of the whole country through which he has passed, will probably now be ready to attest.

...Bordeaux, July 28.

...I had the pleasure of writing you the
...to which I refer. The demand
...for short staple cotton has since been
...pretty brisk; sales have been made at
...advantageous prices; the present rates
...for good qualities are 215 a 225f. and
...for inferior, 210 a 210f. in bond. Prices
...are likely to hold, and may probably ad...vance till the new crop comes to mar...ket, when our prices will be regulated in
...great measure by those established
...with you; and I think an early shipment
...of your prime quality would turn out
...profitable; indeed, real good cotton can ...always be sold to advantage, and I have ...no doubt that you will find it your in...terest to make occasional shipments.

...Sea-Island cotton has got up to 340
...350f. duty paid; but it is a quality not
...much sought after, and the arrival of any
...quantity would immediately reduce the ...price. The imports of cotton from the ...1st of Jan. to the 30th June last, were 15,
...82 bales, of which 3669 were from your
...port; 1-95 from Savannah; 930 from
...New-Orleans; 897 from New-York, and ...210 from Philadelphia. The sales exclu...sive of what has been sent into the in...terior by the importers, amount to 10,
...562. The stock on hand is very trifling.

...It is almost impossible to say what
...will be worth next winter, the crops
...of bread stuff are so abundant all over ...Europe; but I would not advise you to
...calculate on more than 30f. as the maxi...mum, and it may probably not exceed
...25f. should we receive any quantity.
...The imports since the 1st Jan. were 2513
...bales, which were sold as fast as they ...came to market—the 50 casks that came
...in the Spartan, are re-shipped for Ma...drid, as only 30f. were offered for them.

...The Government made large purchases of ...tobacco this spring; and as foreign to...bacco is now employed in the manufac...tures, they will no doubt continue to
...buy, which will help to keep up the price,
...if we are not overstocked, which is to
...be apprehended, as our present prices of...fer some prospect of advantage. The ...Magnet, from Philadelphia, arrived this ...morning with a large parcel on board.
...The Saquahannah, from the same port,
...is hourly expected; she has also got to...bacco; and large shipments are shortly
...expected from N. O. The present price
...of Carolina is 70 a 105f. duty paid.

...Colonial produce in general meets a
...ready sale; and the present quotations
...are likely to hold; but no material aug...mentation is expected. St. Domingo and
...Havana coffees bring 18 a 19 cents.
...Caracas coffee has been sold at 38cts;
...there is very little in market—900 bags
...of Maragnon have been sold at 15cents,
...in bond. Brown Havana sugar is ...worth 43 a 65f. White 63 a 95f. Musco-
...vado, 43 a 75f. short prices. Deer skins,
...8f 50c. a 5f. Bees wax, 38 a 40 cents.
...Logwood is worth 7 a 10f. in bond. Some ...considerable sales were made at these
...prices, which has helped to reduce the
...great stock we had on hand; but I see
...no immediate prospect of a rise.

...The frost which did so much injury
...to the vines in the spring, did so much
...harm to those that it did not appear at
...that time to have affected, that at the ...time of blossom, they mostly all dropped,
...and little or no wine will be made this ...year. There will not, at most, be the ...tenth part of an ordinary crop; many
...estates that make generally from 100 to
...150 tons of wine, will not make more
...than from 10 to 20; this will necessarily
...keep up the price of brandy, which is at
...present 570f. for 5f at proof; 700 a 720
...for fourth proof; and 810 a 820 for Cog-
...nac; exclusive of shipping expenses.
...The vines of last year, which are little ...better than vinegar, have been bought
...upon speculation at 550 a 450f. Two

INFORMATION WANTED.

WILLIAM TAYLOR, aged about 33 years, left his mother's house in Alexandria, on the 15th inst. in a deranged state of mind, and is supposed to have gone towards Fairfax court house, or to Baltimore. He is of small stature, and wore a blue short coat, patched nankeen pantaloons, and black velvet waistcoat.

Should it be in the power of any friend of humanity to give information respecting him to his distressed mother, it will be received with gratitude; and if any person will accompany him home, he will be liberally rewarded.

MARY NORTON TAYLOR.

Winchester, Sept. 20—25 St

For Sale.

THE Tract of Land whereon I reside, containing 709 acres, binding on the Little River Turnpike Road, and adjoining the town at Fairfax court house, about 10 miles from Alexandria and 14 miles from Georgetown and Washington city.
It lies handsomely and is extremely well watered; about three hundred acres in wood. This tract might be divided into three or four lots with great convenience,
as to cleared land, wood and water.

ALSO,

One other Tract of Land adjoining, containing 506 acres, nearly half in woods — lies well and is well watered—with a great proportion of good meadow land.
This tract might conveniently be divided into three or four lots.

ALSO,

One other Tract of Land, containing 452 acres, adjacent to the first mentioned—lies well and well watered—tolerable improvements, with a sufficiency of wood and timber. This tract might be divided into two or three lots.

A more minute description is thought unnecessary, as no person would purchase without viewing the lands, which can be shewn at any time.

These tracts will be sold as they are,
or divided into lots to suit purchasers, and will be sold a bargain, if immediate application be made. Possession of the first and last mentioned tracts can be had at any time, the other the first day of January next. The terms will be a small portion in cash; for the balance any reasonable credit, on being well secured, and interest paid annually.

For Sale.

A tract of Land containing 357 acres, more or less, lying on Occoquan Bay in the county of Fairfax and state of Virginia, adjoining the lands of Robert L. Thompson and William Mason. It is presumed those desirous of purchasing will view the land and for themselves judge of its peculiar advantages. One third of the purchase money will be required in hand, the balance at 12, or 18 months, with a deed of trust to secure the payments.

Thompson F. Mason,
December 14.

Notice.

BEING desirous of having as little trouble as possible in keeping book accounts, I would beg those that deal with me to send orders, and not for less than one dollar at a time.

I will rent a part of my house for a large wholesale dry good or grocery, or retail, or both, with a good cellar and counting room, by the year or otherwise. Or, all the concern I now live at, but not for less than five years; or I will sell the whole at a fair price—89 feet on King street, and 160 deep. No better stand in the street.

A very neat little brick house to let in Duke street, between Patrick and Henry streets.

Public sale.

BY virtue of the power reserved to me, in my contract entered into on the second day of October 1816, with Jonathan Schofield and Alban G. Smith, I will expose to public sale, at Port Tobacco, on the 23d day of September, so much of that tract or parcel of Land, called

The Desert Enlarged;

Situate and lying in Nassau, Charles county, as will raise the sum of two thousand two hundred and ninety-three dollars, sixty-six and two-thirds of a cent, being the balance due me on the sale to the said Schofield and Smith of the above lands.

G. O. FORBES,
Piscataway, Sept 4

Fauquier Land for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale his farm, called "CULENS," situated in the county of Fauquier, on Kettle Run, and adjoining the lands of Messrs. Samuel Weaver, Jacob Weaver, and others 7 miles from Fauquier Court House, 33 from Alexandria, and 3 from the Buckland Mills, containing about 400 acres; a considerable portion of which is now in very heavy timber, the balance cleared and in cultivation, including about 80 acres of the first quality bottom land, which, with a small portion of labor, might be made to produce a large quantity of hay. This land lies well, and is in a good neighborhood, and is watered, Kettle Run passing thro' the farm. To a person disposed to purchase land for the purpose of cultivating and improving it himself, the above offers great advantages, as the plaster Paris & clover acts on no land more efficaciously than on this.

Also, one other farm, lying immediately adjoining, containing the like number of 400 acres; about one half of which has been cleared, the balance well set in timber.

The above farms will be sold together or separately, as may suit purchasers. For terms, which will be liberal, apply to the subscriber, residing near the premises.

T. C. NASH,

A valuable Farm for Sale.

THE SUBSCRIBER will sell, on reasonable terms, a valuable and productive farm of 600 acres, or thereabouts—being part of the land of the late Richard Brent, lying on Kettle Run in the county of Prince William, in the state of Virginia—20 miles from the Occoquan Mills—35 miles from Alexandria, and about the same distance from Georgetown and the City of Washington. This farm lies in the centre of an excellent neighborhood—is handsomely situated—abundantly watered, and has upon it an ample proportion of wood. The soil is naturally strong, and a considerable portion of it has for some years past, been cultivated according to the most approved rules of modern husbandry. Possession will be given on the first day of January next. The terms upon which this property will be sold, will be made known upon application to George L. Brent, of Stafford County, Va. or to the subscriber living in Alexandria.

Land for Sale.

THE Subscriber offers for sale, about 2000 acres of land in Fairfax county, not more than from seven to nine miles from Alexandria. The property is well watered, has a sufficiency of wood, and (judging from the condition of small and well cultivated farms that adjoin it) it is highly susceptible of improvement.—It is at present divided into tenements, of from one to two hundred acres, each provided with a dwelling house, out houses, a garden and orchard; and might, of course, be laid off into four or five very compact farms.

The principal object of the subscriber, being the introduction of a good system of husbandry into his neighbourhood, he will sell on very moderate terms, give a long credit on the whole amount of the purchase money, and require no other interest, than what the present rent of the land pays, being about 3 per cent. on its estimated value.

Notice.

Ranaway from the subscriber in Corn. Wallis's Neck, a negro woman named Phillis, formerly the cook and market woman of Captain Richard Stonestreet, of Broad Creek—I have heard she wishes to get to Philadelphia. I will give One Hundred Dollars if taken in or about Philadelphia: Twenty five if taken in or about Baltimore, and Fifty Dollars if taken in Alexandria or neighborhood, and secured in any jail so that I get her a gain. I heard lately she was seen in Washington with her free husband, who calls himself William Adams.

Joseph N. Stonestreet,

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended.

HAHN'S ANTIBILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, particularly in New-York Philadelphia Baltimore Petersburg Richmond Norfolk Edenton Wilmington Charleston and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons in each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has under Providence preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation of various dangerous complaints arising from worms and from obstructions or foulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Tape or large round worm; the Cucurbitina or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and foetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for rheumatism, gout, palsy, sprains and bruises, white swellings, old strains and relaxations, numbness and weakness of the neck, pains of the side, head ache, swollen limbs and every similar complaint. It prevents chilblains or chapped hands and the ill effects of getting wet or damp in the feet.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, as an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetters, worms, sunburns, prickly heat &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Damask Lip Salve—Restorative Powder for the teeth and gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness which, suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immediate use of tea, frequent intoxication or any other destructive intemperance, the unskillful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in &c.

Hamilton's Elixir for Coughs, Colds &c.

Celebrated for the cure of colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas and approaching consumptions and a certain remedy for the hooping cough.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart, which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.

THE above celebrated MEDICINES are prepared at LEE'S Patent Medicine Warehouse New-York—and sold wholesale & retail at the Bookstore of JAMES KENNEDY & SON, King street, who are sole agents for Alexandria.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
